

MARINES ORDERED TO SAN DOMINGO

They Will Open Up Customs Houses Closed by Revolutionists.

Washington, September 24.—A force of 750 American marines under Colonel F. J. Moses will sail from Philadelphia Friday on the transport Prairie for San Domingo to combat the revolutionists of Dominican custom houses along the border of Haiti closed by revolutionists. Authority for this step was given by President Taft today, after a conference with Acting Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop between Washington and New York in the private car on which the President was returning to Beverly.

Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson and William S. Doyle, chief of the Latin-American division of the State Department, had advised the President yesterday of the necessity for immediate action in San Domingo.

With the marines will go Brigadier-General Frank C. McIntyre, chief of the army insular bureau, and Mr. Doyle as special commissioners to make an investigation on the border between that country and Haiti, where the revolutionists have been most active. The Prairie will arrive at the island about October 1, and plans for the distribution of the marines will depend entirely upon conditions existing at that time.

Under the Dawson treaty of 1907 between the United States and the Dominican republic, the United States is responsible for the collection and distribution of San Domingo's customs dues. Heretofore this has been accomplished freely and peacefully, but rebels have closed all the border customs houses.

Whatever force may be needed will be used by the marines to reopen the posts and conduct their orderly operation. Officials here believe, however, that when a determination of the United States is shown, the rebels will offer no resistance, and that it may even be found unnecessary to disembark the marines. But if there should be any sign of resistance the force will be marched directly inland over the wagon roads and trails, for there are no railroads in that section to the customs houses.

Besides the marines, who will go on the Prairie, perhaps 150 men, blue jackets and marines, may be taken from the gunboat Wheeling, now in Dominican waters. In case of need, and it is said at the Navy Department, that more naval vessels will be sent to Dominican waters at any moment the State Department may desire.

The preparedness of the marine corps for an emergency is demonstrated by the short time allowed to get the expedition headed for Santo Domingo. The force, which will sail Friday, scarcely seventy-two hours after the giving of the order, will be gathered from the Atlantic Coast stations of Port Royal and Charleston, Norfolk, Annapolis, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and Portsmouth, N. H.

Say Steinway

To any one—merely the name, nothing more—and invariably it is known as the name of the most perfect piano.

The many years of Steinway history have been the history of constant endeavor to place before the public the best in pianoforte construction.

That the Steinway organization has attained the end in view is best evidenced by the fact that the Steinway is universally recognized both at home and abroad as the piano supreme in the musical world.

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau. The Times-Dispatch. 1509 Hull Street. Phone Madison 15.

Numerous citizens advocating the proposed bond issue for the purpose of improving the schools of the Manchester district of Chesterfield County spoke last night at a meeting held in the Woodland Heights Baptist Church under the auspices of the District School Board. The principal speaker was Superintendent William G. Owens. Others addressing the meeting were Dr. James Buchanan, John W. Robertson and W. A. Jacob.

The election authorizing the bond issue will be held October 1. The people throughout the entire district are giving the school officers every assistance possible in the matter, and as the taxes will not be increased a large vote in favor of the bond issue is expected.

Richard Evelyn Byrd will be the principal speaker at a meeting to be held Friday night in the Weatherford Memorial Church, Swansboro.

Valuable Horse Stolen. While the owner was in the store on business, a valuable horse and buggy, the property of E. Redford, of 1104 Porter Street, a salesman of the E. W. Gates & Sons Company, was stolen yesterday from in front of 111 East Main Street. The police of the First District were notified, but were unable to locate the missing team.

Mr. Redford before entering the store tied the horse to a telephone pole. After staying inside a short time he came out and was surprised to find that his horse and buggy had vanished. Some people nearby told of seeing a man slightly intoxicated get into the buggy and drive off.

Burned by Gasoline. Chris C. Cox, 115 East Fifteenth Street, a plumber employed by Greer B. Nichols, was badly burned about the hands yesterday morning when a gasoline torch exploded. The flames kindled started over his hands, and only by rare presence of mind was he saved from being burned to a crisp. He was taken to the office of Dr. E. D. Baker, where his injuries were treated. It will be some weeks before he will be able to return to work.

Gets Judgment. Judgment in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $20 was yesterday rendered by the jury which heard the appeal case of George H. Womack against J. J. A. Baughman, Court, Part II. J. M. Turner represented the plaintiff and Gilbert K. Pollock the defendant.

Judge E. H. Wells will this morning hear a motion for judgment in the case of E. Gallagher against Jacob Levy, D. L. Pulliam will appear for the plaintiff and J. Shipton for the defendant.

Spoken on Platform. Another large congregation was present last night at the third of the series of revival meetings which are being held in the Central Methodist Church, Rev. J. W. Wells, of the Broad Street Methodist Church, is conducting the meetings. His subject last night was "Witnessing."

sixteen years. If that is so, Mr. Wilson did not know it, for sixteen years ago he voted against Mr. Bryan. He has forgotten that little detail of his past life and the expressions he used about Mr. Bryan.

"More than that, the party has not had the same program for sixteen years. It has had every conceivable program. Mr. Bryan ran the first time, then Mr. Parker, then Mr. Bryan ran again. Now it is Mr. Wilson, and he knows perfectly well that the party would not venture for one moment to adopt its program of sixteen years ago. Its program then was free silver. Mr. Wilson left it because its program was free silver.

"I ask Mr. Wilson whether he means that if the program to-day was free silver he would vote for it, and if not, why he bolted. He can choose either side of the dilemma, but he has got to sit on one of the two horns.

"Speaking in Pennsylvania, Mr. Wilson said that while he was a free trader he was not enough of a free trader to hurt. He said:

"You do not suppose that as Democrats are engaged in every kind of enterprise they are going to cut their throats? Why didn't he think of that in 1897? He took the view then that if the program of the Democratic party should be put into effect it would cut the throats of the people. Either what he said then was not true or what he says now is not true. He cannot be consistent with both parts of his own record."

"The San Francisco Call, an anti-Roosevelt paper, said in its issue of the Sunday that Mr. Wilson had said: 'We are at a very critical juncture in the history of the Democratic party. There is only one condition upon which the Democratic party can gain the confidence of the nation, and that is that it should have itself committed through and through to progressive principles.'

"This is the statement of the Democratic candidate in the middle of the campaign. He even doesn't know whether his party is progressive or not."

Earlier in his speech to-night Colonel Roosevelt said: "I noticed the other day that Mr. Wilson was said to be having differences with the Democratic bosses both in New York and New Jersey. That is partly because of the difference between the way in which Progressives carried out their movement last spring and the way in which Mr. Wilson's nomination was procured at Baltimore. We progressives fought the bosses, hoisted the black flag and neither gave nor received quarter."

"In the Democratic party there was no such fight. In the primaries Mr. Clark beat Mr. Wilson by more than 200,000 votes, but none of the bosses at Baltimore paid the slightest heed to the primaries. The people were not represented at Baltimore. Taggart and Sullivan were for Mr. Wilson and they finally forced the convention to acquiesce in the nomination of Mr. Wilson."

GERMANY'S NOTED LEADER IS DEAD

Badenweiler Baden, Germany, September 24.—Germany's most brilliant diplomat, Baron Adolf Marschall von Bieberstein, died here to-day after a short illness.

The baron, who had occupied the position of German ambassador in London only since March of this year, had come here to take course of alkaline water treatment and was in comparatively good health until a week ago. Then he fell ill and rapidly became worse until he died to-day.

The baron had suffered from an attack of influenza earlier in the year, and his death is attributed to the after effects of that malady and to his strenuous work in London since his return.

Drives Out CATARRH

No More Blowing, Snuffling or Morning Hawking to Dislodge Mucus, When You Breathe Germ Destroying HYOMEL.

HYOMEL (pronounce it High-o-mel) is guaranteed to end the misery of catarrh or mucus.

Breathe it, destroy the catarrh germs, and soon hawking and snuffling will cease.

Breathe it and crusts will no longer form in the nose; mucus will not lodge in the throat; all inflammation will leave the membrane of the nose and throat and your head will feel clear and fine.

Breathe it for coughs, colds and sore throat; its soothing, healing, antiseptic action is better than all the stomach-digesting remedies in creation.

Complete outfit, which includes inhaler and bottle of HYOMEL, $1.00. Extra bottles of HYOMEL 50 cents at Tangle Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.

To break up cold in head or chest overnight, or to more quickly conquer stubborn catarrh, pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEL into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe the vapor for several minutes before going to bed.

How Long Do Your Horses Live?

Most horses have a working life of only four years. After that period of usefulness they are sold cheaply, drift from bad to worse, either die on an icy pavement or under a sizzling sun—or else they go back to the farm.

Sometimes horses last seven, eight and even nine years—but the day's work for such horses is certainly not severe. Each horse has a certain amount of work in him and when that is taken out he is done for. It may take only two years to work the usefulness-out of a horse.

Some concerns work a horse only two years and then sell him. They say it is more profitable to buy a fresh horse every two years.

But an Alco motor truck lasts more than twice as long. If an axle wears out a new one may replace it immediately. If a wheel goes bad a new wheel may be put on. If a motor has out-lived its usefulness, a new one may be put in in a few minutes.

Thus an Alco truck may last—once might almost be tempted to say—forever. No Alco truck has ever worn out and there are Alco trucks five years old.

Before your horses give out why don't you acquaint yourself with the facts about the Alco truck? Every man who owns a horse should know about Alco trucks. They are being used possibly in the very same line of business as yours.

appointment to the embassy there. The baron, who was a native of Baden, was seventy years old.

Germany's "Strong Man"

Baron Marschall von Bieberstein was regarded as one of the most accomplished diplomats of his time, and since the death of Bismarck he had been considered as Germany's "strong man" to Turkey. He remained at Constantinople for fourteen years, but was often called to Berlin to confer with the Emperor, not only in regard to Turkish affairs, but in connection with Germany's general foreign policy as well. It was often hinted that the baron practically controlled the Emperor's entire foreign policy.

He was strongly in favor of the extension of Germany's dominions in all parts of the world. His views were as well liked at the German court that he was often mentioned for the imperial chancellorship.

The baron was particularly successful in maintaining the influence of Germany in near Eastern affairs, and it was considered due to his diplomacy that German's commercial standing in the Turkish Empire became so strong.

When he was nominated for the embassy in London early this year it was reported that he was endeavoring to bring about an understanding between the two great rivals, Germany and Great Britain. If this was his aim, the new ambassador had little opportunity to attain it, for the three months that intervened from the date of his appointment and his death scarcely sufficed for establishing himself in his new surroundings.

Possible Successor.—The name of the German ambassador at Washington, Count Von Bernstorff, has been mentioned unofficially in diplomatic circles as that of the possible successor to the late Baron Marschall von Bieberstein as German ambassador in London.

Count Von Bernstorff is reputed to be an ardent advocate of good Anglo-German relations.

Monique at Embassy. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roxbury, Va., September 24.—Former Governor A. J. Montague, congressional candidate in the Third District, made a stirring campaign speech here today. He was introduced by Chairman M. H. Barnes and held the close attention of his audience for more than an hour.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Bettie Harrison Smith. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] In the death of Mrs. Bettie Harrison Smith, on September 23, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lewis W. Parker, of Greenville, S. C., friends in Richmond are reminded that another member of a former generation, one intimately associated with the social interests and life of Richmond, has gone.

Mrs. Smith was a daughter of the late Philip Harrison, of Richmond, and the widow of the late A. Austin Smith, C. S. A., of Richmond. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Parker and Miss Jessie H. Smith—and by a son, Austin Smith, vice-president of the Wrenn Paper Company, at Middletown, O.

For many years Mrs. Smith was a communicant of St. Paul's Church in Richmond, and was well known to the congregation there. About a year and a half ago her failing health transferred her residence South, where both of her daughters could be with her, and minister to her comfort.

Possessing an unusually vigorous and well-trained intellect, Mrs. Smith remained always a woman who was most agreeable and entertaining to her friends as a conversationalist and companion. Her faculties were never dimmed by the encroachments of advancing age and illness.
